19 Divisions
Racing Reds
Along Border

New York Times Service
SEOUL, South Korea, Saturday — South Korea's First Army, consisting of 19 divisions on frontline duty facing North Korea, was ordered into full combat status today as casualties continued to rise in clashes with Communist infiltrators from the north.

The army's action, announced by a South Korean military spokesman, was said to reflect growing concern over intensified pressure from North Korea culminating in a daring commando raid on South Korea's presidential mansion in the heart of Seoul, and the seizure of the United States Navy intelligence ship Pueblo by North Korean patrol vessels.

THE U.S. COMMAND announced that an American soldier of the Second Division was killed today, the second U.S. fatality this week in exchanges of fire with the Communists over the wire fence along the southern boundary of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

Meanwhile, President Chung Hee Park's press secretary announced that the captured member of the 31-member commando unit, identified as Lt. Kim Sin Jo of the North Korean army, had named the U.S. Embassy as one of group's assigned targets in Seoul. Other objectives named were the South Korean army headquarters, a prison, and a detention camp where suspected Communist agents are held.

JO WAS QUOTED as saying that the commando unit had decided to concentrate on the assassination of Park. The raiders were less than 800 yards from the presidential mansion when they were discovered. Efforts to round up the band have resulted in the deaths of 24 Communists and 34 South Koreans.

According to records compiled by U.S. military authorities here, "significant incidents" of North Korean infiltration into the south jumped from 50 in 1966 to about 550 last year. The Americans listed 224 North Koreans and 122 allied personnel — Americans and South Koreans — killed in encounters with Communists reaching South Korean territory from the north.

Rain Plain
in Wintry
Southland

Long Beach and the rest of Southern California are in for a wet, windy and generally wintry weekend.

A foretaste of things to come arrived in late afternoon Friday, when clouds massed and showers began falling throughout the Los Angeles Basin. In nearby mountains the raindrops became snowflakes at higher elevations.

U.S. Weather Bureau forecast is for continuing rains — moderate to heavy at times — through tonight, with Sunday just showery. Winds will be occasionally gusty along the coast, almost continuously strong in mountains and deserts.

Infantry
Reserves
Checked

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The National Guard bureau and the Army Reserve office in the Pentagon have been directed to make a rapid but exhaustive study of the readiness of all their major combat and combat support units, authoritative sources disclosed Friday.

While the two offices were told this study was "for planning purposes only," it heightened speculation throughout the Pentagon that President Johnson might soon mobilize reserve infantry units.

The Marine Corps, too, was taking another look at its reserve division-wing team with the same possibility in mind, sources said.

Thursday, in a move related to the mounting crisis over the seizure of the Navy intelligence ship Pueblo by North Korea, the President mobilized 14,787 Air National Guardsmen, Air Force Reservists and Naval Air Reservists.

The White House has declined to exclude the possibility of a companion call-up of ground forces.

TOP DEFENSE planners said that, so far as they were aware, no decision had yet been made on whether to call up foot soldiers. They expect additional diplomatic efforts to free the Pueblo and the 83 men aboard before any such new military step is taken.

But if there is to be a call-up, the general expectation is that at least two divisions will be involved. This expectation is based in part on the fact that South Korea has two infantry divisions and one Marine brigade fighting in South Vietnam.

The South Korean government, meanwhile, can be expected to consider the possibility of pulling its troops back home from Vietnam. To forestall this line of thinking, South Korea must be assured of America's willingness to rush a comparable force to

Burial Allowance for GIs Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department Friday raised the allowance it gives to families of dead servicemen to bury them.

The announcement of the increases by chairman K. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee came after increasing complaints by servicemen's families that the allowance was so small, they frequently had to make up the difference.

The new allowance scale, which goes into effect Feb. 1, raises the maximum normal allowance from $200 to $500. This is the amount provided when the serviceman is buried in a private cemetery after the military performs mortuary services.

Raised from $400 to $500 was the military allowance for burial in a private cemetery in those few cases where the family provides mortuary services.

There was no change in the basic $75 allowed for burial when the body is consigned to the superintendent of a national cemetery.

Soviet Ship Viet Cong Attack Spying on U.S. Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet intelligence-gathering ship is in the midst of a U.S. task force, including the giant nuclear carrier Enterprise standing off South Korea, defense officials said Friday night.

Officials said the Russian vessel is the Gidrogol, one of many trawler-like vessels bristling with electronic snooping gear which operate in many parts of the world, often close to U.S. naval forces and bases.

THE OFFICIALS said that the American task force, which includes the carrier and five escorts, is doing nothing about the presence of the Soviet snooper ship because the scene is in international waters.

The Enterprise, the Truxtun, a nuclear-powered frigate, and four destroyers are cruising in the southern end of the Sea of Japan, standing by for possible use in the Pueblo crisis.

This crisis developed from the North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence gathering ship, the USS Pueblo, and 83 crewmen.

SAIGON (UPI) Saturday

— A battalion of Viet Cong launched mortar and ground attacks against a force of South Vietnamese troops near Saigon early today, breaking their own week-long lunar new year truce only half an hour after it began.

Military spokesmen said the force of about 250 South Vietnamese planes and artillery, beat back the attack and killed six Communists. South Vietnamese losses were described as "moderate."

THE ATTACK came about a half-hour after the announced starting time for the seven-day Viet Cong truce for the lunar new year Tet.

The spokesmen said the Viet Cong sent a mortar barrage against the South Vietnamese and followed it with ground assaults in the PASADENA (AP) — Students posted a "Declaration of Indigestion" and then plunked about 30 trays of tuna casserole and squash on the floor Friday at the administration hall at Caltech.

The students, who said they were fed up with cafeteria food, left their lunches in front of the office of President Lee A. DuBridge. DuBridge was out of town.

The demonstrators said meals were of poor quality and poorly prepared. The administration had no comment.

BULLETIN

TOKYO Saturday (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it has decided to set free three American pilots captured in the north. The Vietnam News Agency (VNA), monitored in Tokyo, said the pilots "had shown a repentant attitude during the period of detention." The three were not identified.

LBJ Says We're Set for Action

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told the nation and North Korea Friday night that he will try diplomacy to end the Pueblo crisis, but that the United States is preparing militarily "for any contingency that might arise" if words alone do not work.

Moments later, the U.S. pressed in the United Nations Security Council for a peaceful solution that would free the intelligence ship and its crew of 83.

"Peace is in serious and imminent danger," U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg said in a council speech of more than two hours. The 15-member council adjourned its emergency meeting for a second session today.

There were these other developments in the crisis:

— Defense officials in Washington disclosed that the USS Enterprise, the carrier heading a task force into waters off the South Korean coast, was being shadowed by a Soviet intelligence-gathering trawler, the Gidrogol.

— A North Korean broadcast monitored in Seoul said the 83 captured crewmen were all in good health.

— The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, was quoted by the broadcast as saying that he "asked for help from military bases in South Korea and Japan but could not get it, since we had intruded so deep into the coastal waters of the Democratic Republic of Korea."

— In Geneva the international committee of the Red Cross said it has intervened with North Korea on behalf of the Pueblo crewmen. It said something about results of its intervention and said it expected not to have another announcement for several days.

— In a speech in Searcy, Ark., Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he would like to see an "international neutral commission check the logs of the Pueblo to see if it did violate North Korea's territorial waters."

The President ended his public silence on North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo in a somber, three-minute appearance on nationwide television moments before the U.N. Security Council began emergency debate on the Korean situation.

He termed a "wanton and aggressive act" the Communist seizure of the Navy intelligence ship and

Election Informers

Q. Back home, I was a member of a group of women voters who passed out information about elections and candidates, and helped to register voters. Is there a similar group out here? L.L., Long Beach.

A. If you are a woman over 21 years old and believe in the American system of government, you can join the Long Beach League of Women Voters, 724 Atlantic Ave.

Action Line

"You don't have to be a registered voter," says a member of the league; "but you will be when we get through with you." The group — active in Long Beach since 1924 — primarily works to enlighten voters about election candidates and issues. League members register voters, distribute literature explaining ballot measures, give speeches and encourage citizens to vote. For an application form, write to Mrs. Bernard Teitel, membership chairman, 5541 El Parque, Long Beach, California 90815.

Constant Reader

Q. Where can I get copies of Gov. Reagan's State of the State speech and President Johnson's State of the Union address? Also, can you tell me where to obtain copies of the new budgets for the federal, state and county governments, and the one for the City of Long Beach? Mrs. L.A.S., Long Beach.

A. You can order both the President's address and the new federal budget from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. The speech — ask for 90-2 House Document 211 — costs 10 cents per copy, says a spokesman for the office. Price of the condensed version of the budget will not be set until it is presented to Congress by the President, he adds. For Gov. Reagan's speech, enclose 10 cents to the Governor's Office, Sacramento. Complete state budgets cost $25, and condensed versions are priced at $4.50. However, a spokesman for the Legislative Bill Room in Sacramento says both are in limited supply. For a county budget — also in short supply — write the Board of Supervisors, room 383, 500 W. Temple, Los Angeles. County budget copies are free, as are Long Beach's, which can be obtained from the city Budget and Research Department, room 207, 285 W. Broadway. The Long Beach Public Library Main Branch, Ocean Boulevard and Pacific Avenue, has copies of all the documents you ask about. You can copy sections of them photostatically if you wish.

Bear Facts

Q. My two children entered a Los Angeles Zoo contest last June. They submitted names for two Alaskan polar bear cubs. Can you tell us what names were chosen for the cubs and who won? R.T., Lakewood.

A. The white cubs, a brother and sister, got space-age names of Polaris and Agena. (Polaris is a two-stage ballistic missile usually fired from a submerged submarine, and Agena is the upper stage of a rocket used for launching satellites.) The cubs were named by 7-year-old John Ackley of Woodland Hills. For his trouble, he was given replicas of the Agena and Polaris projectiles by Lockheed Aircraft, says a public relations representative for the zoo. The cubs, now a year old, are doing well and are on exhibit in the aquatic section of the zoo, says William Turner, an assistant zoo curator. The zoo received the cubs from a big game hunter who found them apparently abandoned off the coast of northern Alaska.

Just His Type

Q. My grandfather is a very active, alert old gentleman of 93, and he loves to read the newspaper. However, in the past few months his eyes have begun to grow weak, and he can no longer read the fine type in an ordinary newspaper. Is there a newspaper in the United States that publishes news in extra large type? S.C., Cypress.

A. Betty Kalagian, editor of the Braille Mirror, a monthly magazine for the blind, published at the Braille Institute of America in Los Angeles, says the New York Times is publishing a weekly paper in large print. Subscription rates are $29 for a year, $15.95 for six months or $8.70 for three months. For more information, write the New York Times, 229 W. 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 10036. Miss Kalagian adds that the Reader's Digest also comes out in large type. A subscription costs $48.00 a year or $25.65 for six months. For information, write Xerox Corp., P.O. Box 3300, New York, N.Y. 10017. Both the Times and Reader's Digest large-type editions can be seen in the periodicals section of the Long Beach Library Main Branch, Ocean Boulevard and Pacific Avenue.

Old Books

Q. My sister is studying history and has been unable to locate two books which she urgently wants, "Home to the Hermitage" and "Home to Kentucky," both by Dr. Alfred L. Crabb and both out of print. I would like to find the volumes for her as a birthday present. Can you help? Mrs. L.K., Long Beach.

A. ACTION LINE'S search turned up nothing in the Long Beach-Los Angeles area and finally led to Nashville Tenn. The public library there referred us to the Zibart Book Store, 719 Church St., Nashville, Tenn. 37203. Owner Carl Zibart, an acquaintance of Dr. Crabb, says he has found copies of these books for customers before, and will try to get them for you if you will write him your request. Zibart says he does not charge for his services in running down hard-to-find books.

Israeli Submarine Missing Off Egypt

Combined News Services

TEL AVIV, Israel, Saturday—The Israeli submarine Dakar is missing in the eastern Mediterranean, official Israeli sources said today, and British and American forces have been asked to help search for it. The ship normally carries a crew of 65. There was no suggestion in the initial Israeli reports that the submarine was lost in hostile action. Israel lost the destroyer Elath to Egyptian rocket fire last October and retaliated by destroying an Egyptian oil refiner with artillery fire in the Suez Canal area. The British Coast Guard picked up and relayed first reports that the Dakar is missing. The report was quickly confirmed by the British Admiralty, the top echelon of the British Royal Navy in London, which said an international air-sea search was under way.

Grope in Dark for H Bombs

THULE AIR BASE, Greenland—U.S. Air Force searchers continued groping in the blackness of the Arctic Circle's 22-hour night for four hydrogen bombs, spurred by the finding of radioactive bomb fragments on the fire-scarred strip of ice where a B52 bomber crashed Monday.

"I have positive evidence the weapons are around the scar," Maj. Gen. Richard O. Hunziker said. He said the H-bomb fragments were located on top of two feet of snow. The Air Force said it still did not know if the other parts of the four bombs are buried in snow and ice or at the bottom of North Star Bay under 880 feet of water. Recovery efforts are hampered by darkness and cold. A deep blue twilight spreads over Thule for about two hours around noon, but the rest of the day is pitch dark. Flashlights are in constant use and new batteries are required every 15 minutes. Hunziker said that while "every piece of debris we found was contaminated" by the bomb's radioactive contents, "based on the information we now have, this does not present a dangerous situation to anyone." Hunziker, in charge of recovery operations, said he did not know what percentage of the thermonuclear devices aboard the plane had been found.

45 Greek Officers Purged

ATHENS — Forty-five senior Greek army officers including King Constantine's top military aide were stripped of their rank and given dishonorable discharges Friday for supporting the monarch's attempted coup against the ruling junta last month. Eighteen generals and 15 full colonels were dismissed, including former Lt. Gen. Constantinos Dovas, chief of the royal household. He accompanied the king into unofficial exile in Rome Dec. 14. Two brigadiers and 10 other colonels also were "retired" for their part in the coup.

Algeria Nationalizes Oil

ALGIERS — Algeria has decided to impose a state monopoly on the marketing of oil and gas. All foreign companies engaged in this activity here were informed that they will have to hand over their operations to an Algerian state company within 90 days, informed oil sources said Friday.

Pacifist to Lead Denmark

COPENHAGEN — King Frederik IX named a pacifist critical of Denmark's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Friday to try to form a new government after the Socialists' election defeat. The king chose Hilmar Baunsgaard, 47, whose Radical Liberal party made the biggest gains in Tuesday's national elections in which voters registered disapproval of Denmark's inflation and the government's efforts to curb it.

Baunsgaard pledged to form a government on the broadest possible basis, but all signs pointed to a coalition of center and rightist parties as Denmark's first non-Socialist government in 15 years.

India Shows Off MIGs

NEW DELHI — India celebrated its 19th Republic Day Friday with a formidable display of weapons that included Soviet-supplied missiles and MIG21 jet fighters. Among the audience of several hundred thousand that watched the parade through the capital were Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union and President Tito of Yugoslavia, both of whom are here on state visits. They stood on the right and left, respectively, of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi on the carpeted reviewing stand.

Death and Panic in Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily — A six-month-old girl died of exposure Friday in a snow-covered field where her family had fled from the earthquakes that have turned Sicily into an island of terror and despair for 32 days. The baby was the 248th victim of Sicily's worst catastrophe in 60 years. Antonia Conamo suddenly lay still in the arms of her mother huddled under a makeshift tent in a soggy field outside the town of Corleone. The Conamo family, like thousands of others, fled their homes in the village during a strong tremor Thursday.

Minuteman Leader Repudiates Carlson

SEATTLE—The founder of the highly secret Minuteman organization, Robert Bolivar DePugh, said Friday that a man accused in Seattle Friday of conspiring in a mass bank robber plot is not a member of the ultraright-wing organization. DePugh, of Norborne, Mo., said Duane Ivan Carlson, 35, was dropped from the Minutemen "for nonpayment of dues."

Carlson was arrested in Seattle Friday along with six other men in connection with a plot for blowing up the Redmond city hall and a power plant and robbing four banks. The FBI said Carlson was believed to be a full-time employee of the Minutemen and that others of the seven arrested also were members of that organization.

135,000 Auto Workers Idled

DETROIT — The number of auto workers idled by strikes, parts shortages and local disputes rose to 135,000 Friday. The mounting effects of walkouts at three General Motors foundries—in Michigan, Ohio and New York—led GM to lay off 60,300 more workers, bringing the total number laid off by GM to 106,700. Another 11,200 were on strike at the foundries. Negotiators for GM and the United Auto Workers Union met in Detroit in efforts to reach agreement on local foundry disputes. Chief stumbling block was a union demand for a six-minute company-paid washup period before lunch.

Tells $1 Million Diet Pill Income

WASHINGTON — An Illinois doctor specializing in weight control told Senate investigators Friday he and his seven assistants handled 85,000 patient visits last year and grossed around $1 million.

Dr. Louis L. Rubel of Decatur, Ill., testified his 1966 income tax was over $200,000. His income included commissions of $1,200 a month from Lampar Co. of Dallas, Tex., he said, as well as earnings from the practice. Another specialist in weight control, Dr. Orville J. Davis of San Diego, Calif., said he handled 11,727 office visits last year and placed his gross income at approximately $220,000. Davis' net income after taxes was $29,000, told the Senate antitrust subcommittee. Davis said he charges $40 for a first visit, including $25 for laboratory tests, and $15 for subsequent visits. He testified he spends about 5 to 10 minutes with each patient.

Dr. C. Frank Chambers of Northport, Long Island, a general practitioner, urged federal action to curb diet pill makers like Lampar Co. Chambers told the subcommittee that he attended a symposium on obesity in New York City in September 1966, that was sponsored by the Lampar Co. He said he was appalled when "a gentleman got up and stated that we should be making at least $100,000 a year from the Lampar diet program." Dr. Harry Needleman of Miami Beach, Fla., said that in treating airline hostesses, Playboy bunnies, jockeys and others who want to lose weight he uses drugs he mixes himself. Needleman, who said he has a general practice, testified that no medication on the market combines the preparations he uses so he mixes them in a room off the kitchen in his home.

Combine News Services

Thomas F. Johnson, a Democrat who served two terms in Congress from Maryland, was convicted in Baltimore Friday — for the second time — of conflict of interest charges. Judge R. Dorsey Watkins' verdict in U.S. District Court climaxed what the 58-year-old defendant has called a five-year nightmare. Judge Watkins postponed sentencing until Tuesday at Johnson's request. The former congressman can receive no more severe a penalty than imposed at his first trial in 1962, when a jury sentenced him to six months imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. The government accused Johnson of accepting $17,500 from J. Kenneth Edlin to intercede with the Justice Department on behalf of Edlin, then under indictment on mail fraud charges. Edlin, a savings and loan operator from Miami, Fla., later pleaded no defense and served five months in prison. A federal appeals court awarded Johnson a second trial, ruling that a speech he made on the floor of the House of Representatives was privileged and could not be the basis for part of the indictment against him. Frank W. Boykin, a Democratic congressman from Alabama convicted with Johnson the first time, was fined $45,000 then pardoned two years ago by President Johnson.

ORDERED OUT

Charles Frederick Wilson, Britain's escaped and recaptured great train robber, was ordered deported from Montreal Friday and was expected to be flown back to England's Birmingham jail today. A specially convened immigration board of inquiry ordered the deportation of Wilson, 37. It ruled he was the fugitive wanted for breaking jail on a 30-year sentence for his key role in Britain's $7.3 million train holdup, largest cash robbery in history. In an extraordinary secret hearing, presiding commissioner Jacques Pepin ruled that Wilson had illegally entered Canada in January, 1966, through a phony passport under the alias of one "Ronald Alloway." A few hours later, the same court ruled Wilson's wife, Patricia, a comely dark-blond behind huge dark glasses who tried to shield her three young daughters with blankets against photographers' flashbulbs, was also ordered deported.

Immigration department officials said Wilson was scheduled to be flown back to England at 9:30 p.m. EST Saturday.

EGGS, TOMATOES

Prime Minister Harold Wilson ran into a noisy anti-Vietnam demonstration Friday night as he arrived in Sheffield, England to make a speech about rent controls. About 3,000 persons chanted "Wilson Out!" as well as slogans attacking U.S. policy in Vietnam. Eggs and tomatoes were thrown at police and scuffles broke out in parts of the crowd.

FREEDOM AT LAST

George Freeman, 79, wore a big smile as he was released from Norfolk Prison Colony in Boston. He has served 58 years for murder of a man in 1910. He expected to be free some day "even if I had to live a hundred years." He wants to visit his brother, Perry Cook, 85, a hospital patient and one other thing — "Just go out for a little walk all by myself."

SENTENCING STILL TO COME

Thomas F. Johnson, 58, former Democratic congressman from Maryland, leaves the federal building with his wife, Agnes, after he was convicted the second time for conflict-of-interest. Sentencing was postponed until Tuesday.

OUTRAGED

Three Michigan housewives said Friday they have collected more than 4,000 signatures from persons outraged over plans to send an Air Force sergeant to Vietnam, leaving five motherless children behind. "We're going to wrap up the whole lot in one great big bundle and send them to the White House," said Mrs. Delbert Loggins of Trenton. "We think it's outrageous that this man is being sent into a combat area under the circumstances." Mrs. Loggins referred to the case of S. Sgt. John L. Wolfe, whose wife died two years ago. Wolfe said in Louisville, Ky., he plans to leave his children in an orphanage and with relatives during his Vietnam tour. The three housewives include Mrs. Robert Cooley of Trenton and Mrs. Ervin Salgeon of Pontiac. They have been collecting signatures and letters of protest ever since they learned of the case last week. Wolfe told them by telephone, Mrs. Loggins said, that he doesn't want to go to Vietnam but feels compelled to do so. Wolfe was offered a hardship discharge. Air Force officials said, but chose to stay in the service instead. The sergeant explained he does not want to lose pension benefits built up over the years.

EXTORTION

Police Chief J. T. Alley said his officers jailed a Lubbock, Tex. elementary schoolteacher Friday after the man allegedly received $12,000 in extortion money from supermarket magnate Roy Furr Sr., 70. Furr also is chairman of the board of directors of Texas Technological College at Lubbock. Police officers hidden in work tents atop telephone poles and in unmarked cars arrested Lonnie Lee Mayhugh, 29, moments after he allegedly took the $12,000 from Furr at a city park Friday. A helicopter also figured in the apprehension. Furr is president of Furr's Inc., which owns and operates a large chain of supermarkets in West Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. Police said a man telephoned Furr Thursday morning and demanded $12,000 in $100 bills. They said Furr related that the caller threatened to kill one of Furr's grandsons if he did not comply.

10 YEARS

A trusted woman executive of an Auburn savings and loan association in Sacramento, who gambled away most of the $275,000 she embezzled during the past nine years, was sentenced to 10 years in prison Friday. Mrs. Catherine R. Bornemann, 50, was ordered to undergo a 90-day psychiatric examination and reappear before U.S. District Judge Sherrill Halbert for possible modification of the sentence. She was convicted on two counts of embezzlement. Federal probation officer Don Chamlee reported Mrs. Bornemann, head cashier and secretary to association president Paul Claiborne, lost most of the money gambling at Lake Tahoe and Reno, Nev., casinos. Mrs. Bornemann was on vacation when the shortage was discovered in a routine audit in November.

DEBT PAID

There were twenty sacks in a wheelbarrow containing $978.89 in pennies. Internal Revenue Service employees in Dallas clustered about in amazement, confusion — and with a small problem. The owner of the pennies, Don Kelsy, a 36-year-old engineer, wanted a receipt. He said he'd paid his debt. "That's not money," one employee said. "I couldn't count that in 40 years," the cashier said. The solution was a counting machine at a nearby bank. The IRS soon learned they did not have to take the pennies.

$9-MILLION REDUCTION Textbook Budget Cut Draws Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tempers flared at the State Curriculum Commission Friday when members learned that the state had cut the budget for the reading textbooks for elementary schools from $20 million to $11 million.

Dr. Kenneth Bailey, a commission member and chairman of the teacher training division of the University of California, Irvine, said he had been informed of the cutback by the state director of finance.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, and a member of the commission, said that if the board had to cut down to a single text series he would recommend the Lipincott readers. He said these were adequate in phonetics and "the best racially balanced series I have ever seen."

Other board members said that this would be a disastrously curtailed package and that even the current series contains 52 different textbooks.

Melee Breaks Out at L.A. Paper

By WALT MURRAY

Two persons were arrested and one slightly injured Friday night when a sympathy demonstration for strikers at the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner turned into a rock-throwing melee. More than 500 demonstrators marched on the downtown office of the nation's largest afternoon newspaper to protest the use of professional strikebreakers in the 43-day walkout.

About 120 Los Angeles police officers were called to the scene, and six divisions were placed on tactical alert shortly after the demonstration began at 5:40 p.m.

Both men arrested were booked on drunk charges and were not demonstrators, police said. But officers said they would later seek complaints against "several" demonstrators for "vandalism."

SPOKESMEN FOR both the strikers and the Herald-Examiner said most of those who demonstrated belonged to unions other than those at the newspaper.

Unions participating in the two-hour protest included the clothing workers, industrial workers, molders, machinists, carpenters, glass blowers, social workers and state, county and municipal employees.

The demonstrators hanged Mayor Sam Yorty in effigy for rejecting demands by the nine striking and locked-out unions that he intervene in the dispute. The mayor's effigy, dangling from a lamppost, was plastered with placards reading, "While Yorty Fiddles, Hearst Imports Scabs," "If Scabs Stay, Yorty Must Go," and "Hey, Sam, Speak Up."

At the height of the demonstration against the Hearst-owned paper, about 20 of the large, circular plate glass windows at the front of the newspaper office were broken.

TWO SMALL FIRES were set — and quickly doused by firemen — near the entrance of the building.

The mass demonstration was called by the AFL-CIO County Federation of Labor after a meeting of top union leaders. Sigmund Arywitz, executive secretary of the federation, said officials were considering a general work stoppage of all union members in the Los Angeles area.

Such a stoppage "requires a very broad examination," he said. "But if we're going to do it, we'll do it quickly."

Meanwhile, some progress was reported in talks between photoengravers and the San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co. in that city's 22-day-old newspaper strike.

Contract negotiations between the photoengravers and the printing company — which prints the Hearst-owned Examiner and the independent Chronicle — began after mailers struck both papers Jan. 5 in a contract dispute.

Prof Warns Don't Scoff at Saucers

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — A University of Arizona physicist Friday asked fellow scientists to "stop laughing smugly" at reports of unidentified flying objects. He said official Air Force investigations of the subject have been "badly mishandled."

Dr. J. E. McDonald said his investigations have brought him to the point where "I almost wish someone would come along and show conclusively that UFOs are just something seen by a lot of nuts."

McDonald, a senior physicist also associated with the Institute of Atmospheric Physics, spoke at a seminar at the United Aircraft Corp. research laboratories here.

McDonald said his lengthy studies of UFO reports have led him "ever farther" toward the conclusion that some form of extra terrestrial surveillance does exist.

Hitler Book Brings $950

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Philadelphia book dealer paid a record $950 Thursday night for a first edition of "Mein Kampf" inscribed by Adolf Hitler, its author.

The rare document was knocked down at a Charles Hamilton Galleries auction to Charles Sessler, Inc., who also paid $2,175 for four letters by Revolutionary War Gen. Nathaniel Greene. Dr. Rudolf Kallir, a collector, paid $1,100 for a boyhood letter from Abraham Lincoln's assassin, John Wilkes Booth, which included the phrase "America Forever!"

By one calculation, based on national and local statements, the bureau concluded the local March of Dimes chapter took in $129,300 in 1967 and spent 44 per cent of it on administration and fund raising.

"Although the campaign has a police department permit which normally means fund raising expenses do not exceed 15 per cent of receipts," the bureau said, "it appears the reported income and expense totals do not coincide with the chapter's audited records."

Book Cast of 'Beard' Once More

Police arrested the four principals in "The Beard" again Friday night, but a U.S. District judge issued an injunction prohibiting the officers from returning to arrest the performers in a second show an hour later.

Judge Thurmond Clark signed the preliminary injunction forbidding police from entering the Warner Playhouse, at least until a court hearing on a permanent injunction Monday morning. A. L. Wirin, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, secured the injunction.

Producer Robert Barrows, director Robert Gist and stars Richard Bright and Alexander Hays were charged with lewd and disorderly conduct and with "producing or uttering obscene words" when they were arrested seconds after the one-act play's controversial, climactic scene.

While they were being booked, understudies Steve Whittaker and Victoria Hale staged the second of the play's two scheduled nightly performances.

Bright and Miss Hale will return to the stage tonight, Barrows said. They, Gist and Barrows were released on $625 bail. All four — plus author Michael McClure — had been arrested on the same charges Thursday night. Then, they were released on $1,250 bail.

Police contend the play is being staged illegally because it contains profanity, culminates in a simulated unorthodox sex act and has not been cleared by the police commission. An application for a police permit is pending before the commission.

Teen-Age Trio Held in Slaying

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Three teen-agers, two captured after a high-speed chase, were held Friday on charges of shooting to death a service station attendant during a robbery.

James T. Currin 38, an Air Force master sergeant moonlighting as an attendant, died in a hospital about five hours after he exchanged shots with robbers fleeing the station in a car Thursday night.

Police identified the suspects as Robert Martinez, 17, Bennie Corpus, 19, both of Broderick, and Gilbert Martinez, 18, of Bryte.

Tevanion Merrifield, a Shasta County sheriff's deputy who was at an intersection near the station, said he heard someone yell there had been a shooting and pointed out the suspects' car.

Merrifield, who was passing through Sacramento, chased the car until it went off a road on a curve and overturned. His patrol car struck a power pole but he was unhurt.

Currin, assigned to a field training detachment at Mather Air Force Base, is survived by his wife and three children.

$5,320 Bar Holdup

CUDAHY (CNS) — Two armed robbers took $5,320 in cash from the owner of a Cudahy beer bar Friday. William Miller, who operates the bar, said he was in a rear room where he cashed checks for patrons when the pair entered.

Convict 2 County to Revamp in Plan to Murder Welfare Lobbying

By JIM MCCAULEY
From Our L.A. Bureau

POMONA (CNS) — A Pomona Superior Court jury Friday convicted a South El Monte couple of conspiring to commit the murders of a neighbor and a South El Monte city councilman.

Roy and Awana Irene Robb face possible sentences of life imprisonment. They will be sentenced Feb. 15 by Judge Henry W. Shaffner, who presided over their month-long trial.

ALTHOUGH the seven-man, five-woman jury began deliberations last Wednesday, it spent only about five hours in consideration of the verdict. The rest of the time was spent in the rereading of testimony given during the trial.

The 45-year-old Robb and his 41-year-old wife were acquitted of two counts each of solicitation for murder — the original charge against them.

BUT THE District Attorney's office filed an amended complaint against the couple, who each were specifically convicted of one count of conspiracy to commit assault by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, and two counts of conspiracy to commit assault by means of force likely to produce great bodily injury and conspiracy to commit murder.

The couple was accused of seeking the deaths of 79-year-old Councilman Francis G. Stiles and their 62-year-old neighbor, Louis Checchin.

The two men led a fight to close down the Robbs' dog kennel.

Edward William Frisbie, 36, of 7812 Tenth St., Westminster, died at Orange County Medical Center Jan. 7. Physicians said he had a ruptured spleen. Police said it was from a beating.

A janitor at the Pussy Cat Bar, which Frisbie managed, found him on the floor of the building early Jan. 4 when he came to work.

KENNEDY PLOT WITNESS L.A. Judge Voids Garrison Order

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer Friday refused to order Lawrence Howard Jr. of El Monte returned to Louisiana to testify in a grand jury investigation into the assassination of President Kennedy.

"The allegations in this certificate (summoning Howard to testify in February) are not nearly as persuasive as the testimony of a live witness," the judge said. Howard claimed earlier he knew nothing of an assassination plot. It was Howard the judge referred to as a "live witness."

THE CERTIFICATE was signed by Judge Matthew Branniff of the Parish of Orleans Criminal District Court.

Howard, 32, had been summoned to testify by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, Howard first indicated he would go to Louisiana voluntarily then balked.

At an earlier show cause hearing, Howard said he changed his mind and did not want to go to Louisiana. It was suggested that Garrison send a representative here to take a deposition from Howard.

Howard claims he knows nothing of an alleged assassination plot against Kennedy, fatally shot in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963.

Another man Garrison sought in his investigation, Edgar Eugene Bradley, 49, North Hollywood, told the judge he had "never" met Howard before their courtroom appearance and that he does "not" know of any involvement on Howard's part in any alleged conspiracy.

BRADLEY, who was subpoenaed by Howard's attorney, also denied he had any knowledge of an alleged conspiracy or that he had ever met Lee Harvey Oswald or Jack Ruby in Dallas.

In an affidavit filed in Louisiana, Garrison alleged that Bradley was "actively engaged in accomplishing" the assassination.

Bradley and Clay Shaw, a New Orleans civic leader, have been charged formally of conspiring to kill President Kennedy. Shaw faces trial next month in New Orleans. Bradley is due in municipal court here Monday for an extradition hearing.

LOS ANGELES (CNS) — Brenda L. E. Karenga, the 22-year-old wife of Black Power militant Ron Karenga and a friend were released on bail early Friday after being arrested for allegedly shoplifting $10.24 worth of merchandise from a South Los Angeles market, police said.

Off-duty officers arrested Mrs. Karenga and Norma Jean Tyson, 29, of Hacienda Heights, on suspicion of petty theft.

Guard Reserve Strength Studied

its assistance in an emergency, some officials said. At the same time, if sizeable air and ground units are mobilized for up to 24 months and the Korean crisis cooled off, officials noted there was nothing in the law to prevent the use of the new units either in Vietnam or to free other military forces for Vietnam duty.

MANY MILITARY men and some congressmen have long called for the mobilization of reserve forces to permit a larger effort in Vietnam and to beef up the active forces remaining in the U.S. that are available for other contingencies.

But the White House press secretary, George Christian, attempted to scotch reports that the President had seized on the Pueblo incident as a long-sought excuse to make a reserve call-up politically palatable.

"The action yesterday (in mobilizing air reserve units) was related directly to the situation in Korea and nothing else," he insisted.

Asked whether the Air Reservists would be released when the Korean crisis was settled to Washington's satisfaction or whether they might be used in Vietnam, he did not answer directly.

"The troops were called up because of and not for Korea," he said.

National Guard and reserve specialists at the Pentagon worked through much of last night, it is understood, determining on a unit-by-unit basis such things as current strength figures; the quality of combat equipment in hand or readily available, and detailed transportation and billeting plans.

OF PRIMARY interest in this study was the so-called Selected Reserve Force, made up of three National Guard divisions, six independent brigades and one armored cavalry regiment.

The force consists of 118,900 Guardsmen and 31,100 Army Reservists. These high-priority units have, since mid-1955, been given additional drill time, first call on equipment and greater unit strength goals than other units.

But for the most part these units have M-1 rifles instead of the newer M-14 and M-16 rifles in the hands of active duty troops, and they have older trucks and communications equipment. Some of the equipment required for these units in mobilization would have to be taken from units outside the select force.

The new study seeks to determine precisely what equipment would be required for each select unit and how long would be needed to provide it.

ONE OF THESE divisions, the 38th Infantry of Indiana, regularly trains in the jungle in Panama and this might be of special interest if a long-range Vietnam assignment were thought possible.

But in making a decision on which guard unit to call, if indeed any are called, another serious consideration planners concede, would be how necessary certain units might be to their states this summer in the event of racial rioting.

The 38th Division, for example, has a brigade each in Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. The last two states might well be considered too hot, potentially, to be able to spare the units. In that case, the 47th Infantry Division, with brigades in Minnesota, Oklahoma and Wisconsin, might be a likelier choice.

Three Eyed for Ticket by Romney

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan is considering three prominent New England politicians, including Sen. Edward W. Brooke, as running mates if he gets the Republican presidential endorsement, it was disclosed Friday.

Romney, campaigning in New Hampshire preparatory to the March 12 primary, told a gathering in Lebanon he would consider — two men from Massachusetts and one from Rhode Island — for the vice presidential slot if he wins the nomination.

Romney later identified the Rhode Islander as Gov. John H. Chafee.

A campaign aide said the Massachusetts men were Brooke and Gov. John A. Volpe.

Earlier, both Romney and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., — campaigning separately for the first-in-the-nation primary — refused to rule out the use of force as a means to recover the spy ship Pueblo and its crew from North Korea.

Romney said the "United States must use caution in handling the incident and avoid over reacting because" the degree of action and the way you handle it is important.

Tax Hike Endorsed by Mayors

New York Times Service WASHINGTON — The United States Conference of Mayors Friday endorsed President Johnson's request for a federal tax increase.

The executive committee of the mayors' organization, which includes John V. Lindsay of New York, also urged congressional approval of adequate funds to finance urban programs and discussed with the President possible ways of winning that approval.

Lindsay, who described the closed meeting with Johnson in the White House cabinet room as "very constructive," said:

"The President expressed his concern for the chances for enacting the urban programs. The mayors outlined their needs and problems and the president asked for suggestions to help in the congress, especially the house."

Mayor Joseph M. Barr of Pittsburgh, president of the conference and spokesman for the 10-man delegation, said that Johnson "very definitely avoided asking us to be lobbyists."

But Barr suggested to reporters that the urgency of the need for urban programs is "not getting through" to some members of Congress.

POST OFFICE JOINS FIGHT ON SMOKING

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department plans to join the government's war on cigarette smoking next month.

The department will place about 55,000 posters on its trucks. The black posters with white printing say, "100,000 doctors have quit smoking cigarettes. Maybe they know something you don't."

GOLDBERG CHARTS U.S. SHIPS COURSE FOR UNITED NATIONS
U.N. Ambassador Shows Pueblo's Position to be in International Waters

Solon Says Peace in Danger, Give Reds Goldberg Warns 24 Hours

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee said Friday the United States should give North Korea a 24-hour ultimatum for the return of the Pueblo with the threat of a nuclear attack if it did not comply.

He said President Johnson should show the toughest former President Harry S. Truman showed in his decision to use two atomic bombs against Japan to end World War II.

"I'd issue an ultimatum to the government of North Korea to deliver that ship in 24 hours," Rivers said. "If she didn't I'd make positive that at least one of her cities would disappear from the face of the earth."

"TD SELECT a target," he told UPI. "I'd do like Truman did. Let one of them disappear. But whatever the President does, I'll back him up."

The South Carolina Democrat said he was not afraid of what the world might say if a nuclear weapon were used. He indicated he was not afraid that such an act might start a nuclear war.

Rivers said crew members of the Pueblo probably have been transferred to various places, possibly in some cases to Russia. He said Russia, in his opinion, engineered the ship's seizure. He scoffed at State Department efforts to seek Russian help in winning release of the ship.

Javits Asks U.S. Probe of Pueblo

New York Times Service NEW YORK — Sen. Jacob K. Javits R-N.Y., called Friday night for a prompt congressional inquiry on the Pueblo incident and other foreign policy issues.

Javits said the inquiry was vital to decide: —What priorities should be placed on Far East conflicts; The Middle East situation, foreign economic issues such as Britain's troubles, and other foreign policy problems.

—How to anticipate "impending crises" better than in the past and to draw plans for meeting them.

—How to improve communication of facts and policy plans to the public, here and abroad, "so as to win friends and influence people."

Javits' proposal for an omnibus foreign policy inquiry by Congress was made shortly after Arthur J. Goldberg, the chief United States representative at the United Nations, had given the Security Council an account of the seizure of the Pueblo.

Earlier in the day, the senator had proposed an immediate inquiry, confined to the Pueblo incident, if President Johnson did not provide answers to the "many questions" in the seizure.

its crew of 83 in international waters. "Clearly, this cannot be accepted," he said.

Johnson said the best result of the U.N. debate would be "for the whole world community to persuade North Korea to return our ship and our men, and to stop the dangerous course of aggression against South Korea."

HE VOTED continued diplomatic efforts to solve the crisis, and added:

"We have taken and we are taking certain precautionary measures to make sure that our military forces are prepared for any contingency that might arise in this area. These actions do not involve in any way a reduction of our forces in Vietnam."

For the first time, the President indicated an official belief that North Korea's action might be connected with the Vietnam war. Until now, administration officials have expressed doubt this was the case.

However, Johnson said specifically that the Pueblo's hijacking may be "an attempt by the Communists to divert South Korean and United States military resources which together are now successfully resisting aggression in Vietnam."

While asserting that the U.S. will not back down, Johnson said he hoped "the North Koreans will recognize the gravity of the situation which they have created."

IMPLICIT IN the President's brief remarks was the warning that if all diplomatic efforts fail, the U.S. was preparing to take military action if necessary to win release of the Pueblo and its crew. It was boarded and forced into North Korea's Wonsan harbor early Tuesday.

Johnson spoke toward the end of another tense day in which the U.S. strongly warned North Korea against carrying out an implied threat to punish the Pueblo's crewmen as criminals.

Such a move, the State Department said, would be a "deliberate aggravation of an already serious situation."

In addition, the U.S. appealed to the International Red Cross for help in trying to arrange the Americans' release, especially those who are seriously injured.

The White House denied suggestions that the President's call-up of 14,787 air reservists Thursday was intended to fill manpower needs in Vietnam, and that the Pueblo incident was used as an excuse. "The action yesterday (Thursday) was related directly to the situation in Korea and nothing else," said press secretary George Christian.

THE SOVIET UNION rejected a second U.S. attempt to have the Kremlin prevail on North Korea to free the Pueblo and its crew.

But White House and State Department officials were pleased by the fact that the Security Council agreed, by a 12-3 vote, to discuss the matter over Soviet objections that it was an internal North Korean matter. The Russians support Pyongyang's contention that the Pueblo was spying in North Korean territorial waters when it was approached.

The Soviet opposition to Security Council consideration was supported by Hungary and Algeria.

Goldberg told the Security Council the Pueblo was well outside North Korean territorial waters when it was seized last Tuesday.

Goldberg said this was confirmed by the North Koreans themselves in radio messages monitored by the U.S.

Goldberg said the Pueblo's own position report placed the vessel at least 16.3 nautical miles off the North Korean Coast, and that intercepted North Korean radio messages put the ship at least a mile farther out in international waters.

North Korea claims its territorial waters extend 12 miles from shore, and it said the Pueblo had violated that limit.

Cholera Perils Bald Eagles in Florida

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK, Fla. (AP) — A colony of 100 rare bald eagles in the Everglades is threatened by the spread of a fatal virus called avian cholera.

"We're quite concerned that the eagles will get it," said Robert Kerr, assistant superintendent of the national park. "The virus could quickly wipe out our entire population."

"So far the disease has concentrated almost entirely on coots, but it could spread to other species and there is almost nothing you can do to prevent it from spreading among wildlife," Kerr said. "It just has to run its course."

The avian cholera, apparently was brought to the park by migrating waterfowl. Rangers are burning the bodies to stem the spread of the disease.

Pueblo Skipper Interview Alleged by Red Koreans

SEOUL (UPI) — The captain of the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo said in an alleged interview Saturday he "asked for help from military bases in South Korea and Japan" at the time his ship was boarded by North Koreans.

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher was quoted by the Communists as saying he and the 82 officers and enlisted men who served under him on the Pueblo were all in good health because of "the kindness of the North Korean authorities."

The North Korean Central News Agency (KCNA) published an account of the alleged interview and an account of it was broadcast by Radio Pyongyang. KCNA said Bucher, 38, was questioned by Communist newsmen at "a certain spot" in North Korea.

"As we had been ordered not to be captured under any circumstances, we made every effort to escape but there was no way out," Bucher was quoted as saying.

'Rash Acts' Warning by Mansfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana cautioned Friday against any "rash act" that could lead to another Asian war because of the seizure of the USS Pueblo.

Mansfield told an informal news conference he hopes the United Nations Security Council can find a peaceful settlement of the crisis created by North Korea's capture of the intelligence vessel last Monday night.

"One war is not only enough for the world but too much," he said, in reference to possibility that the Vietnam conflict might be supplemented by another.

"We must move circumspectly. A rash act could lead to war. The last thing we need is another land war in Asia."

"In fact, we asked for help from the military bases in South Korea and Japan but could not get it since we had intruded so deep into the coastal waters of the Democratic Peoples Republic (North) of Korea," the interview quoted Bucher as saying.

"So we were captured at 7.6 miles off Ryo-Do Island ... after having committed spying activities deep in the central waters of the Soviet Union, People's (Communist) China and other Socialist countries."

Soviets Hit U.S. Call-Up of Reserves

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia charged in a cautious article Friday that the call-up of U.S. reserves in the Pueblo crisis was just "a convenient pretext" to replenish American troops in Vietnam.

The Izvestia attack, the first public Soviet reaction to the seizure of the U.S. spy ship Pueblo by North Koreans, came as U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson met once again with Soviet officials to seek their intercession with North Korea.

The tone of the article indicated, however, that the Kremlin has not yet laid down a policy line.

Authoritative sources in Moscow said Russia had not yet replied definitively to Thompson's request for intercession. One official told newsmen he believed the reply would be negative when it came.

Kirschke Still Not Told Names of Two Witnesses

JACK KIRSCHKE... 'I've Had No Information'

By GEORGE LAINE

The identity and whereabouts of two men who claim to have seen a suspicious couple outside Jack Kirschke's house the night Kirschke's wife and her lover were slain is still a mystery to Kirschke.

In an interview at Los Angeles County Jail Friday, Kirschke said he is "still waiting for the state attorney general's office to get around to delivering the information to me."

"I've had no information from them as of now," the suspended deputy district attorney said. He glanced at the clock on the wall. The time was 4:50 p.m.

The two men were contacted by Orange County Dist. Atty. Cecil Hicks sometime during the past month, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris, the prosecutor when Kirschke was convicted of killing his wife, Elaine Terry Kirschke, and pilot Orville William Drankhan, last April 8. Harris said earlier this week he would make the information on the "identity and whereabouts" of the two available to any "responsible representative" of Mr. Kirschke.

Kirschke said in a letter — he would be that representative.

"I'm supposing I'll get the information eventually," said Kirschke, neat and well-manicured in jail denims.

"But I sent the attorney general's office a letter — they had a messenger hand deliver it — on Wednesday. They have the information, or at least they say they have it. It shouldn't take them this long."

Kirschke could scarcely conceal his delight that a third witness had come forward with a story that closely paralleled the one set forth by the two Orange County men. He said he felt there was "something to it," but expressed surprise when asked who the dark man and the "hard blonde" might be.

"Why would I automatically know?" he asked, his voice rising. "Why should they be people I'm acquainted with?"

"There's a possibility that someone might have been upset with Bill Drankhan because he was seeing my wife, isn't there?"

The appearance of the third witness — Mrs. Winifred Avery, 71, of Port Hueneme — failed to impress Harris. He said he was "a little skeptical."

"It is such a late report," the prosecutor said, "it is hard to give it any credit."

"It sounds to me," Harris said, "like she saw Bill Drankhan and Elaine Kirschke."

Harris said he had sent investigators to Port Hueneme to interview the woman. He said he expected the report by Monday.

The attorney general's spokesman also said he didn't feel the three persons who have volunteered new testimony in the Kirschke case would be the last. He predicted new witnesses would start coming forward "at an increasing pace" in the weeks between now and May 7, the date set by Superior Court Judge Kathleen Parker for hearing Kirschke's motions for a new trial.

Future SST Pilots Fly High—Aground

By HERB SHANNON
Aerospace Editor

Flight training for crews of supersonic transports and other large commercial aircraft of the future should be done entirely on the ground instead of in the air, according to representatives of the Air Transport Association now touring the nation.

This can be accomplished by improved flight simulators which will give pilot-trainees all the sensations of actual flight under every condition, including a more realistic representation of what the pilot sees, ATA committeemen told a news conference in Los Angeles.

Capt. John A. Walker, chief of pilot training for Pan American World Airways and Capt. Walter A. Moran, director of training for American Airlines, said present simulators are not sophisticated enough.

"We are convinced the right kind of simulator will make possible better and safer training than can be done in actual aircraft," Capt. Walker explained. "Improved visual simulation is a vital requirement."

"This is the first time the airlines have been able to tell the manufacturers collectively what we want in a simulator," he said. "What we have done is to spell out what the simulator should do to help us train pilots on the ground to the point where they will be perfectly at home the first time they get into the cockpit of a new aircraft such as the supersonic transport."

Simulators now in use have the cockpit, instruments and controls of real aircraft. These are linked by computers to create the same cockpit environment a pilot would experience during various maneuvers and emergencies.

Many current simulators do not have any capability of reproducing the view of the outside world as it would appear to the pilot during flight maneuvers. Others using film or television projectors show only the view directly ahead.

"We'd like to see a panoramic view from side to side to give the pilot all the visual cues he needs in circling for a landing," Capt. Moran said. "The representation would be in full color for true simulation."

Capt. Walker said U.S. airlines now have an investment of about $70 million in a total of 53 simulators of existing aircraft. ATA member airlines plan to add at least 35 simulators costing about $2.5 million each in the next four years.

"We hope this additional investment of $85 million will provide manufacturers with the incentive to develop the kind we need" he said.

THEY OWN 'EM ALL Council Can't Lose a Seat

By BOB GEIVET

It's impossible for the voters in San Juan Capistrano to unseat their city councilmen. The councilmen own their seats.

It all started when the picturesque mission village in southern Orange County was incorporated as a municipality in 1961, and had no funds for anything.

Rancher Carl E. Buchheim, who became first mayor of the new city, picked up six chairs for $60, and figured he had a bargain.

Nobody disputed that, and nobody disputes the fact he also got a headache.

He suggested the city reimburse him for his $60 outlay, and take possession of the chairs. Only Councilman Antonio M. Olivares objected. He insisted the deal was a good one, but the mayor had no right to buy the chairs without authorization.

Buchheim had purchased them from a savings and loan association in Laguna Beach, which at the time was remodeling offices. They're steel chairs, with arms and padded seats, and all black — which sort of adds to the gloom of the situation.

The then-mayor seemed crestfallen his colleagues would challenge his intentions. He even refused to sell their chairs to them. It took City Administrator Ernest Thompson more than a year to convince Buchheim he should accept the $10 apiece posted by councilmen William A. Bathgate, Edward F. Chermak, now the mayor; Don Durnford, who was mayor last year; and Olivares.

BUT NOW, WITH a municipal election scheduled April 9, and the terms of Buchheim and Bathgate expiring, the question came up of how to seat the council, and the city attorney, who occupies the sixth chair Buchheim bought.

In a Solomon-like decision, the council decided Administrator Thompson should buy some chairs. They appropriated $145, for five chairs. Councilman Olivares will keep his own seat; he said the other four councilmen and the city attorney could sit on city property, but he favors private ownership.

Chace Sees OK of Lifeguard Plan

From Our L.A. Bureau

County Supervisor Burton W. Chace predicted Friday that his plan to allow lifeguards to write tickets for minor offenses will win approval next week.

"Approval will mean safer beaches," he said.

By okaying Chace's plan, supervisors would be implementing new state legislation which allows uniformed park and beach personnel to issue citations.

Chace originally was optimistic he could win passage of an ordinance to give peace-officer status to county lifeguards, empowering them to arrest people.

But that was defeated when other supervisors questioned whether citation-writing would interfere with rescue and life-saving responsibilities.

Chace's plan obviously would ease the pressure on local police departments in beach areas. It is supported by the cities of Torrance, Palos Verdes Estates, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo and Redondo Beach.

The winner will represent California in the American Junior Miss Pageant next month in Mobile, Ala.

Two Orange County misses will be participating in the competition. They are Pamela Johnson of Fountain Valley and Jeanie Dodson of Yorba Linda.

Judges include Dr. Richard Clowes, superintendent of Los Angeles County schools; Bruce Gossett, record-breaking place kicker with the Los Angeles Rams; Sally Sherbin, the 1968 Disneyland Ambassador; Dr. Tod Anton, superintendent of the Hillsborough School District and a past board member of the state contest; and Glenellen Cooper, the 1962 California Junior Miss, who was first runner-up in the national contest.

Golf Rate May Drop

From Our L. A. Bureau

London S. Hollinger, county chief administrative officer, has recommended dropping the proposed age requirement for a "senior citizen's" discount on county golf courses.

Last month, county supervisors asked the county to explore giving cut-rate fees to weekend golfers more than 62 years old.

Instead, Hollinger proposed selling a 10-day golf ticket to any golfer regardless of age. The ticket would cost $20. Present fee for one 18-hole game on a county course is $3.

Hollinger's move to give all weekend golfers a "senior citizen's" discount was backed by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Cyclist Thrown Against Tree Dies of Hurts

Richard Shenker, 19, died Friday in Orange County Medical Center of head injuries suffered five days earlier when he was thrown from his motorcycle against a tree.

Shenker, a deliveryman who lived with his mother Irene, at 632 Walnut St., Orange, was tossed head-first against a palm tree at Imperial Highway and Sievers St. when he lost control of the cycle.

Bad Health News Begins New Career

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

After more than 25 years in the same line of work, Robert C. Aldrich wasn't quite prepared for the news.

His doctor told him: "No more heavy work."

"The bottom dropped out," recalls Aldrich, who was past 40 years old when it happened.

"I'd been in the floor-covering business for 25 years and had worked up to being a foreman and a vice president of my company."

And now a back injury, caused by lifting, had disabled Aldrich, who lives at 3632 Del Amo Blvd., Lakewood.

When Aldrich heard about the vocational rehabilitation services offered by the State Department of Rehabilitation, 230 E. Fourth St., he grabbed at the chance.

After four hours of testing, Aldrich was advised by Lisa R. Yellin, rehabilitation counselor, to learn the occupation of orthodontics technician.

So Aldrich began a year-long on-the-job training program in the office of a Lakewood orthodontist, Dr. Leon J. Pinsker.

Aldrich recalls he was scared at first.

After all, counselor Yellin says, Aldrich had only a ninth-grade education, plus some night-school courses.

But Aldrich's fears proved unfounded.

Not only did he learn to become an orthodontics technician, but he invented a dental device after only a few months of training.

Aldrich developed a clasp—a tooth-holding device—that has advantages over conventional dental clasps.

Conventional clasps, notes Dr. Pinsker, are either too bulky or have soldered attachments. Under tension, such wire items have a tendency to break.

However, Aldrich's clasp consists of one piece of wire with no joints or sharp ends. Joints or sharp ends are the weakest spots in dental devices, making them vulnerable to breakage.

Aldrich says his aim was to create an appliance—an orthodontic retainer—that would be "more comfortable for the kids."

His approach was through doodling. Aldrich has always liked cartooning and art.

He penciled sketches for a couple of days—both at the office and at home.

INDEPENDENT PRESS-TELEGRAM

SATURDAY, JAN. 27, 1968 SECTION B—Page B-1
MARKETS PAGES B-2 & B-3

It turned out that creation of little circles in clasp wire was the solution to abolishing sharp edges.

"I made the first clasp at home using a paper clip," Aldrich discloses.

"I hit on the right way the first time," he says.

It's a good thing too, he notes. "I would've been too dumb to see the complications if I had failed," he says with a laugh.

Dr. Pinsker says Aldrich has "tremendous ability" and will stay on as a full-time employee. Aldrich, now 46, has just completed his training program.

Although the new dental clasp will be manufactured and distributed by a large dental-products company, Aldrich says he doesn't expect to get rich from his invention.

Says Aldrich, a Long Beach native and a former newspaperboy (Long Beach Sun):

"It takes a long time for anything new to be accepted."

City Manager May Act Monday on 2 Accused Officers

City Manager John R. Mansell is expected to act Monday on Police Chief William J. Mooney's recommendation that two young Long Beach patrolmen be fired for drinking while on duty.

Pending the city manager's action, Officers Richard G. Osborne, 25, and Russel M. Graves, 26, were suspended.

The chief's recommendation, delivered to Mansell's office late Friday, followed investigation of a three-wheel police motorcycle crash into a parked car near Willow Street and Pacific Avenue about 2:45 a.m.

Osborne's cycle, according to investigation by Deputy Chief Ralph G. Korts, failed to negotiate the corner while Osborne and Graves, also driving a three-wheeler, were responding to a radio report that a prowler had been seen near Graves' home. The officers were scheduled to go off duty at 2:50 a.m.

Osborne was hurled over the hood of the car by the impact. He was treated at Memorial Hospital for a fractured elbow and cut chin. The unoccupied parked auto's owner was listed as Benjamin J. Stringer, 228 E. Willow St.

Chief Mooney's office said Osborne had a bottle of vodka which he shared with Graves while they were patrolling near Artesia Boulevard and Atlantic Avenue.

They were headed for downtown Long Beach to go off duty when the prowler call was monitored on their radios.

The chief's office reported tests given the patrolmen after the incident disclosed Osborne had an alcoholic blood count of .08 and Graves had .04. Current standard for intoxication is .15, officials said.

Samaritan-Killing Trial Set Monday

Trial of Harold Ernest Null, 20-year-old dishwasher accused of murdering a man who took him into his home and supported him while he got a job, is scheduled to begin Monday.

Null is accused of stabbing Michael Eugene Pierce to death last July 28 with a 5-inch hunting knife in Pierce's home at 1041 Flint Ave., Wilmington.

Pierce's wife, Marilyn, told police he had taken Null into the home five months before because Null had no money and no place to go.

Mrs. Pierce told investigators she left her husband in the kitchen of their home for a short time and heard him say, "You must be crazy, Harold."

She said that she heard her husband scream, and that when she went into the kitchen he was lying on the floor with the knife in his back and Null was taking money from his wallet.

She said Null ran outside with $170 from Pierce's wallet. He was found hiding under a car when police came, investigators said.

Police said Null told them he failed to appear in Long Beach Superior Court July 5, and needed the money he took from Pierce to get out of the area.

USS Edson Commended for Viet Duty

The Long Beach-based USS Edson once hit by enemy fire while off the coast of North Vietnam, has been awarded the Meritorious Unit Commendation by the Secretary of the Navy.

The award is for "achievement while participating in combat operations" in Southeast Asia from Feb. 28 to July 5 last year.

The Edson is one of the first ships to be granted this recently established award.

While off the Vietnam coast, the Edson conducted extensive "fire-support missions" inflicting severe damage to military installations, communications lines and waterborne logistics craft.

Insurance Man Faces Arraignment

Edward Earl Gamble, insurance agent accused of extortion and forgery in a complex case involving travelers checks and medical overpayments, will be arraigned in Long Beach Municipal Court at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Free on $2,500 bail, the Westland Life Insurance Co. representative was arrested at his office, 4014 Long Beach Blvd., after a four-month investigation by Long Beach detectives.

The 50-year-old defendant was previously identified as working for Western Life Insurance Co., which has offices at 2011 Pacific Ave., but has never been connected with that firm.

Gamble, of 340 W. 10th St., is accused of forging and cashing $670 in travelers checks taken from the home of a policyholder, Mrs. Nanni Sue Dudley, 77, of 316 W. Eighth St., a widow who was hospitalized with a broken hip, according to Detective Sgt. Ron Skaggs.

The detective also said Gamble is accused of diverting to his own bank account a refund of $4,723 overpayments that came from various agencies and insurance companies and was remitted by Memorial Hospital.

LONG BEACH POLICE CHIEF BILL MOONEY INSPECTS NEW OFFICER Force Graduated 27 New Men in Ceremonies Friday at Veterans Park

27 Officers Graduate From L.B. Academy

Twenty-seven new policemen will start patrol Monday after graduating from the ten-week Long Beach Police Academy.

Graduates honored Friday in ceremonies at Long Beach Veterans Park included five officers from nearby cities — Palos Verdes Estates, Lynwood and Signal Hill.

The other 22 officers begin night patrol duties for Long Beach police Monday.

The Academy presented Policewoman Katherine A. Swan with the "most improved pistol" award for excellence in firearms training at the Long Beach Pistol Range. Officer B. D. Lowell received the "high average pistol" award.

The "academic excellence" award went to Officer G. L. Hiscox, who graduated at the top of the class.

Attending the Vets Park ceremonies were Police Chief William J. Mooney; William E. Kummer, assistant police chief; and Ralph G. Korts, deputy police chief.

Also attending were Richard Conroy, Palos Verdes Estates police chief; Capt. M. B. Milles, of the Lynwood Police Department; and James R. Denham, Signal Hill police chief.

School Unification Problem Returns to Orange County

By BARBARA KNESIS

A resolution, mailed Friday to Orange County school officials, is expected to bring the emotion-packed question of school unification into the limelight again.

The resolution, adopted by trustees in the Fountain Valley School District "to start the ball rolling," calls for dividing Huntington Beach Union School District and its five component elementary districts into three separate districts.

"Our thought was this," explained Dr. Charles A. Woodfin, the district's associate superintendent in charge of business services: "The state is mandating unification. Eventually every district will be unified, and rather than have the state come in two or three years and say 'okay you will have to be unified by June.' We will take this time and plan to insure an orderly future."

The trustees were not specific on boundaries for two of the three proposed districts.

The third, eastern district in which the present Fountain Valley School District is located, would be bounded on the north by Garden Grove and Westminster School Districts, on the west by Beach Boulevard, on the south by the ocean and on the east by the Santa Ana River.

It would encompass 21 elementary and two high schools.

All three districts would be of equal size and assessed valuation, Woodfin said.

Copies of the resolution, Woodfin said, also would go out to board of trustees from each of the affected districts — Huntington Beach Union, Huntington Beach City, Ocean View, Seal Beach and Westminster.

In September, 1965 the same school districts turned thumbs down on a proposal to unify into one big district. However, the general feeling was that the 52-square-mile district would be too large and local control would be lost.

Current state law requires unifications generally be along high school district boundaries.

Woodfin said the resolution was more of a suggestion than a developed plan.

"We still have to do quite a bit of study on statistics, but we didn't feel everyone should sit back and do nothing until right before he votes," he said.

Terminal Isle Escapee Hunted by Police, FBI

A 25-year-old escapee from the Terminal Island Federal Correctional Institution, believed to have fled by scaling a fence, is the object of a search by police and FBI agents.

The prisoner, Bobbye Dean Walker, who began a three-year term in December for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, is fair complexioned with brown hair, hazel eyes and is six feet tall, weighing 180 pounds.

Warden G. V. Richardson said Friday he was missed at the 9 p.m. bedcount of prisoners Thursday night and was declared an escapee at 10 p.m. after a recheck.

Airport Revenue Increased by 22%

By DON BRACKENBURY

Revenue earned by Long Beach Airport during the 1966-67 fiscal year was $486,250, an increase of 22.4 per cent over the prior year, City Auditor Murray T. Courson reported Friday.

Courson said the $89,102 gain in revenue was primarily the result of leasing of additional airport land, but said there were "significant increases" in commissions from restaurant facilities, sale of petroleum products and automobile rentals.

Leasing of land brought in $250,411 during the fiscal year, a gain of $76,566 over the prior 12 months. Restaurant commissions to the city totaled $37,662, an increase of $9,985, while petroleum products accounted for $51,803, an increase of $6,135.

There was a $4,543 drop, to $60,712, in fees from the rental of hangars, and auto parking revenue was off $2,670, to $23,804.

The annual audit revealed that expenditures for the 1966-67 fiscal year totaled $228,022, an increase of 5.5 per cent — as compared to the 22.4-per cent gain in revenue.

Capital improvements at the airport during the year totalled $455,253, and included work on the restaurant, land acquisition, installation of sewer lines and a pump station, conversion of the Nike site and installation of instrument landing control cables.

The audit also noted that under agreements with the federal government, the city is eligible to receive a maximum of $975,643 for land acquisition and certain improvements at the airport. As of last June 30, $512,654 of this money had been received.

'Goodwill' Report, Installation Slated

ROBERT E. HOWARD

Goodwill Industries will make its annual "Report to the Community," install directors and hear a report on the increase in California handicapped Monday at the annual installation dinner, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Goodwill plant, 800 W. Pacific Coast Highway.

Walter L. Case, executive vice president of Wightman Memorial Goodwill Industries, said principal speaker will be Robert E. Howard, supervisor of the California Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

George Tobias, Costa Mesa attorney, who is chairman of the Council of California Goodwill Industries and also board president of Goodwill Industries of Orange County, will be installing officer.

Directors being elected or re-elected are William D. Began, Roy L. Brown, David Corkle, Judge Martin DeVries, Orland L. Ford, Verne Morrill, James Morrison, Ethel Wightman and M. E. Lewis Jr.

Aide Asks $785,000 From Capron Estate

A former secretary has filed a claim for $785,000 against the estate of the late Mrs. Ednah Race Capron, who died within months after winning a $16-million divorce settlement against real estate magnate George H. Capron.

Mrs. Grace Farmer, now a real estate broker in Redlands, contended Friday in Santa Ana Superior Court that the money is due her through an oral agreement with Mrs. Capron reached in 1964 and extending through 1970.

Mrs. Farmer claims the agreement for her services made in July 1964 was $35,000. On September 29 of that year, she said, she was promised $50,000. The offer of financial bounty was increased to $200,000 the following month. This, she claims, was in connection with the sale of some of Mrs. Capron's property.

SHE CONTENTS she was to be paid $500,000 for being secretary under an agreement of service until 1970.

Mrs. Capron died in Costa Mesa in August 1965. She was 75 years old. She and Capron, whose net worth is valued at more than $20 million, were married in 1909 and divorced in 1954.

Two From Area Killed in Viet

A Compton Army sergeant and a Norwalk Marine private were killed in action this week in Vietnam, according to the Department of Defense.

The casualties are Sgt. Gary L. Nordquist, husband of Mrs. Janice E. Nordquist, 14713 Lime Ave., and Pfc. Mitchell F. Silvers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Silvers, 10652 Meadow Road.

COLUMBIA HEADS FOR NEW HOME

Crowd gathers near Harbor and San Diego freeways to greet Goodyear blimp The Columbia as she glides to permanent 30-acre site in the Carson-Dominguez area. A third blimp will join Goodyear's fleet as part of a $4-million expansion and improvement program, it was announced Friday. The history of the Columbia will appear Sunday in Southland Magazine.

It is said that when the
Hollywood Foreign Press Association holds a meeting, there isn't a waiter to be found in the 10 top restaurants in Beverly Hills and environs.

The implication is that these blossoms on the tree of journalism are moonlighting with aprons around their waists and napkins draped over their arms.

An outrage.

These monocled, slick-haired, foreign-accented gentlemen of the press are above such menial employment.

Still, it is difficult to find a waiter on their meeting days.

The Foreign Press Association voted recently for its Golden Globe awards to be distributed to the best films, actors, directors and head waiters. Oops, strike that last one. There will be no Golden Globe for the Hollywood maitre d' of the year.

Sensibly, the foreign scribes have divided the best picture division into two parts: musical or comedy, and drama.

That way, the boys can give out twice as many globes.

NOMINATED for best musical or comedy (and presumably both if a film was simultaneously comical and musical) were
"Camelot," "Doctor Dolittle," "The Graduate," "The Taming of the Shrew" and
"Thoroughly Modern Millie."

Named for best drama
were "Bonnie and Clyde,"
"Far From the Madding Crowd," "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," "In

Cold Blood" and "In the Heat of the Night."

They've also divided the players into best dramatic and comedic performances.
This is a good idea. It's like serving white wine with the fish course, or hallandaise sauce with asparagus. And these guys should know.

Why should Alan Bates compete with Rex Harrison, or Julie Andrews with Faye Dunaway? Better they serve hearts of artichoke with pistachio sherbet on the side.

Winners will be announced on a national television show Feb. 12, almost two months prior to the Oscar presentations.

In years past the Foreign Press Association awards have made little impression on the Oscar people, although there have been cases where the best picture, actress or actor did coincide in both organizations.

For whatever reason, the Oscar is still treasured above the Golden Globe.
There's no telling why, unless, of course, it is the gravy stains on the globe.

SAID, 'WE TRAIN YOU!!'"

BOOK REVIEWS A Doctor Analyzes Mass Killer Richard Speck

BORN TO RAISE HELL:
The Untold Story of Richard Speck. By Jack Altman and Marvin Ziporyn, M.C.
Grove Press, $5.95.

To criminalists and psychiatrists, Richard Speck, murderer of eight nurses last year in their Chicago dormitory, offered uncommon clinical interest.
As that rarity, a surviving mass murderer, he could be studied intensively for knowledge which could help society comprehend and cope with other mad killers.

In the seven months

Speck was held for trial,
Dr. Ziporyn, Cook County jail psychiatrist, interviewed him twice a week,
for one to three hours, unraveling the factors and experiences that could fill gaps in the understanding of violent behavior. He saw Speck as a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. "Given to magic potion (drugs and alcohol),
this gently, considerate man turns into a murdering monster. Speck's motor is like everyone else's motor
— it is his brakes that fail
him. Speck did not wish to kill... why did he?"

THE ELEMENTS in
Speck's case were listed as:
"a brain-damaged human being — impulsive, childish, emotionally labile
(unstable), racked by headaches; drugs, alcohol and barbiturates which excite him — methedrine to make his judgment poor and cat-alyze latent hostility; a basic obsessive personality, rigid, punitive, puritanical,
sado-masochistic... hostile to females; hatred of his wife for suspected infidelity and divorcing him."

Dr. Ziporyn feels Speck was, bearing out his fateful yer's hometown to the trail tattoo, "born to raise hell," a victim of heredity and environment, and that the solution for such persons lies in rehabilitation and re-education and, in some cases such as brain damage, permanent institutionalization until science finds the answer. — Morry Rabin.

Paul Revere's Boston to Fort Sumter, the texts, by historians of the caliber of Carl Sandburg, Louis B.
Wright and many others,
and the 676 illustrations,

American history live.

LATIN AMERICA
WRITING TODAY. Edited
by J. M. Cohen. Penguin
Books, $1.25.

Some of the great ones are here, of course — Chile's Nobel Prize-winning poetess Gabriela Mistral and other Chilean, Pablo Neruda, and perhaps the greatest Latin American of them all, Argentina's Jorge Luis Borges. The near-great are represented by Cuba's Alejo Carpentier, the Argentinian Julio Cortazar,
the Brazilian Guimaraes Rosa. There is nothing of the second-rate to be found in the rest; they include some of the best of the younger Latin Americans.

Torrey Meet Brings Top Bible Teachers

First Baptist of Long Beach and North Long Beach Brethren are two of the 12 Southland churches which will host the 33rd annual feast of renowned Bible teachers, evangelists and preachers known as the Torrey Memorial Bible Conference.

First Baptist, at 10th and Pine, opens its big "Week With the Word" Sunday at 7 p.m. with Dr. Donald B. Rood, western secretary for the Pocket Testament League, whose work has taken him into Africa, South America and Vietnam. With his close friend, baseball star Felipe Alou, he will be going back to Vietnam after the conference.

Speakers on the following nights, at 7 p.m., advises the First Baptist pastor, Dr. Frank Kepner, will be:

MONDAY — Rev. Gordon Wishart, pastor of the Omaha Gospel Tabernacle, which originated with WOW, first continuous radio congregation in the land.

TUESDAY — Dr. Wil-

DR. HADEN At NLB Brethren

Ham Sloan of First Baptist, Yucaipa, author of a highly praised volume on the ministry of the Holy Spirit.

WEDNESDAY — Dr. S. Franklin Logsdon, author and successor to Dr. Harry Ironside of historic Moody Memorial Church of Chicago.

THURSDAY — Rev. Louis Palau, South America missionary leader. The Argentine-born Dr. Palau has been called by the head of Overseas Crusades "the outstanding spokesman for Christ in the Latin world today." His tent evangelism campaigns have been spectacular.

FRIDAY — Dr. John C. Whitcomb Jr., professor of Old Testament, Grace Theological Seminary, who lived in China at one time, and whose works and charts on the Old Testament's authenticity are used in more than 200 colleges and seminaries throughout the world.

NORTH LONG Beach Brethren, at 61st Street and Orange Avenue, kicks off Sunday morning at 9 and 10:30 p.m. with Dr. Ben Haden, pastor of First Presbyterian of Chattanooga, former general manager of the Kingsport (Tenn.) Times News, and current feature speaker over NBC's "Bible Study Hour," also released by Armed Forces Radio Service.

Sunday, 7 p.m. the guest will be Dr. Bruce Dunn of Grace Presbyterian of Peoria. Monday, 7:30 p.m. the speaker is Dr. Ralph Keiper, of Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary, Denver. Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. — Dr. Lewis S. Johnson, professor of New Testament, Dallas Theological Seminary. The NLB Brethren windup will be Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. with Rev.

SOUTH AFRICA MINISTER HERE

Rev. Lynda Clark of Johannesburg, South Africa, former operatic star, actress and model who turned to Religious Science, will speak Sunday, 11 a.m. in the Church of Religious Science, 1309 E. Third St. She started the first center in Johannesburg and trained practitioners for other areas, and is credited with a major role in the growth of the denomination in South Africa. A reception will follow the service.

Stanley Collins, superintendent of Glasgow United Evangelistic Assn. and pastor of Tent Hall Tabernacle, Glasgow, Scotland.

Says Dr. George O. Peek, the pastor: "The Conference has always been one of the year's highlights for our church, in the past 15 years. People who come are invariably strengthened in their faith, which is what all need and are looking for these days."

The program is held in memory of Dr. Reuben Archer Torrey, first dean of Biola College, the sponsors and renowned Bible scholar.

Other area churches participating are First Baptist of Downey, Central Bible of Costa Mesa and Magnolia Baptist of Anaheim.

LEAVES THRIVING FIRST BAPTIST OF LAKEWOOD
Church Set, New Challenge Calls

By LES RODNEY

Rev. Harold S. Carlson came to the four-year-old First Baptist Church of Lakewood from Minnesota in October, 1951. It had 171 members and an annual budget of $8,000.

Today the church at 5336 Arbor Road has 2,450 members, recently completed its building master plan, has a plant valued between three and three and a half million dollars, an annual income of $375,000 for God's work, and hums along with additional full-time ministers for youth, education, music and visitation, and a business administrator.

Now that it would appear to be relatively smooth sailing ahead, Pastor Carlson is not sighing with satisfaction at a job well done and looking ahead to gratifying and perhaps less energy-draining years at the helm.

Matter of fact, he will preach his farewell sermons at First Baptist of Lakewood this Sunday. Then he'll move along to the young Edina Baptist Church in a suburb of Minneapolis.

Why?

THE ROUND FACED, sparkling eyed preacher, who still has the unburned complexion of north country ancestry, smiled at the question this week, and shrugged the little shrug of inevitability.

"I know," he said, "I've heard it said that I'm crazy to leave now of all times. It's just the way I am. I must have a new challenge before me. The church that has called me is at the stage where they need to build, to move ahead in many areas where I trust I have the background and experience to help."

It's not that he loves his church and people here one whit less. "I feel that I'm leaving one of the greatest churches in America. And I love all these wonderful people! They understand, even though I have received many pleas to stay."

Regardless of who the leader had been, the church at the border of Long Beach and Lakewood would probably have grown to some extent in these 16 years. Its setting among relatively young, maturing families is more favorable for growth than most downtown situations. Still, there had to be some central dynamic, some formula behind the EXTRAORDINARY success story.

Pastor Carlson nodded. "Our 'strategy' is that every member consider his neighbors his mission field, and that his family pray daily for all his neighbors. If everybody does that, the neighbors will feel the concern."

"I don't believe in buttonholing anyone, forcing Christianity on people. But prayer is something quite different. What is our approach? Now we put out a brochure, I wanted to appeal in the simplest way to the non-church goer. The picture showed hands clasped, the idea that I want to be your friend. Not only with my hands, but with my heart."

HE PONDERED a moment. "As I look back over my ministry here, I think of a question I saw in a book. It asked, can the average man find better fellowship at church than down at Joe's bar. Usually the bartender is a better listener. There one may feel he is accepted, not condemned. Well, actually of course the bartender will listen only as long as the customer has money. But the point is that people are looking for a place where they can be accepted as they are, where nobody will look down their noses at them."

"I have always felt one didn't have to attain a certain state before he could be admitted to the church. If someone hesitates to join us because he still has some terrible habits, I say to him, come on in now, we're not a society of perfect people, but a fellowship of people who have committed ourselves to Christ. We're here to help you."

Thus a decision for Christ is the "only" prerequisite for membership. "You know, the pastor added, "when someone makes the commitment it's like a baby was just born."

That baby is going to stumble, to make mistakes. We're not here to scold or judge, but to encourage. Many people in our church are still struggling with shortcomings."

Able staff members and lay leaders have been another key factor in First Baptist's growth, he believes.

"From the start, I wanted to surround myself with men who thought big thoughts, who focused on possibilities not problems, men who saw the tremendous potential."

First Baptist's congregation ranges the age scale, but Pastor Carlson thinks about young people a lot. This is reflected in a teaming program of activities, sports, social events, a "fifth quarter" at the church after football games, youthful mission trips to Baja California, etc.

"Why," he says in the intensely total way he addresses himself to all topics, "soon 50 per cent of the population will be under 25 years of age. If we

If there is any 'secret' to my ministry, it is that I love people. I love the personal individual contact with people. People feel that."

"It's one of the reasons it is so hard to leave here. I've grown to love these people. You sit with parents through a night when a son is hovering between life and death, you are with them in times of suffering and times of sorrow. Next to parents, a real pastor is the closest to people. As the Bible says, you rejoice when they rejoice, weep when they weep..."

Ready for the move are his wife, Jane, older son James, who has already done outstanding mission work in Korea and is headed for a seminary next fall; son Ron, 17, who also wants to be a minister, and daughter Julie Ann, 11. "She wants to be a missionary," said Rev. Carlson with a smile.

First Baptist, affiliated with the conservative, Independent Baptist General Conference, has started the process of choosing a new pastor. But all will sorrowfully agree it isn't easy to find as charismatic a leader as Pastor Carlson. Or a pastor who spends hours of a Saturday evening alone in the sanctuary praying, individual by individual, for his people.

Final sermons will be at 9 and 10:30 a.m., and 7 p.m. In between, from 2 to 5 p.m. there'll be an open house farewell reception for the Carlsons.

"Please put in the story," said Pastor Carlson, "that I am leaving part of my heart here, and that I'd like to see anyone I've known through these wonderful years."

Lutheran Unity Group to Meet

The Lutheran Council in the United States of America, a cooperative agency for nearly nine million Lutherans, will hold its second annual meeting in New York City Tuesday and Wednesday.

Formally organized in Cleveland late in 1966, the council serves as a cooperative agency for this country's three largest Lutheran bodies as well as a fourth.

Its partners are the 3,280,000-member Lutheran Church in America, the 2,817,000-member Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the 2,648,000-member American Lutheran Church, and the 20-500,000-member Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches.

Together, they encompass all but five per cent of the nation's denominational membership.

TROY CUMMINGS

Central Church of Christ Gets New Minister

Troy M. Cummings has assumed the position of minister at Central Church of Christ, 501 Atlantic Ave., and will make his first pulpit appearance Sunday at 10:45 a.m.

Evangelist Cummings replaces Claude S. Doggett, who has gone to a Visalia church after 5½ years at Long Beach Central.

Minister Cummings has served the Redlands (Calif.) Central Church of Christ for nearly four years. Born and reared in Texas, he graduated from high school and business college in that state. Attending college in Tennessee, he then received B.A. and M.A. degrees at Abilene Christian College, majoring in New Testament Greek and in Bible.

He has worked with churches in Oklahoma, Oregon, Arizona and California, besides conducting special meetings in other states. He spent three years with one of the Dallas, Tex., churches, six years at Prineville, Ore., and five years at Catalina church in Tucson before his work at Redlands.

Cummings taught New Testament Greek at the Bible chair of the University of Arizona as a part of the student services by members of the Tucson churches. He has delivered lectures or taught classes at Pepperdine College and Fort Worth Christian College.

Cummings and his wife, Berta, reside at 700 E. Fifth St.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Some Misfortune Can Be for Best

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I was invited to a breakfast party celebrating the founding of a publishing company. The date happened to be on a Friday — the 13th at that — but nobody seemed to be the slightest apprehensive about that. Prentice-Hall, Inc., began on the 13th of October. One of its founders and chairman of the board, Richard Prentice Ettinger, was born on Oct. 13 and married on Oct. 13 — so that date seemed anything but unlucky.

During the breakfast I learned that one of the first books published was on the then brand-new federal income tax and regulations. The first printing of 5,000 copies sold like hot cakes. A second printing was brought out but, just as it went on sale, regulations interpreting the law changed and the book was rendered obsolete.

So here was a fledgling company, trying to get started and borrowed up to the hilt, with 5,000 obsolete books on hand. But Mr. Ettinger has always operated on this basic and dynamic principle: if you do your best, things happen for the best. And plus this philosophy he also used his head to think. (It is a great thing to do and we all ought to do more of it.) He did some real thinking and came up with a simple idea, one that was to get his company on its feet and really moving.

HE ISSUED a supplement to the obsolete book giving all current tax regulations. This saved a loss on 5,000 copies and led to the realization that tax laws would be constantly changing. So Prentice-Hall inaugurated books in a loose-leaf format. In this way new pages could be issued to replace obsolete sections. As a result the company became a large producer of authoritative publications on tax regulations and laws.

But there is more I want to say about Mr. Ettinger — the man who believes everything happens for the best. A few years ago he developed cancer of the throat and underwent a radical operation. He has a little tube in his throat and speaks distinctly and well.

As the breakfast party was breaking up he said to me, "About the theory of mine that whatever happens happens for the best... You know, when I learned that I had cancer I thought, how is this going to be for the best? Things were pretty rough and it took a little time but I came to realize how. The cancer took 20 or 30 pounds off me. Afterwards the doctors told me that all that weight had been affecting my heart and, now that the excess weight is gone, I will probably live 10 years longer! So, you see, whatever happens does happen for the best!" and he smiled triumphantly.

I LOOKED in admiration at that indefatigable, indomitable man. And I told him that one of the big things for the best in my own life was to know a man like him — a living demonstration that, even in difficult circumstances, when you do your best things happen for the best.

I recall an old friend, the late J. L. Kraft, founder of a large food processing company. Like Mr. Ettinger he began with practically nothing — well, that is, nothing but faith and a good idea. He experienced plenty of ups and downs but he always said: "Had it not been for the downs there would have been fewer ups." He too insisted that, as hard as things sometimes seemed, if he just kept on doing his best, outcomes were the best. "God," he concluded, "is on the side of the man who takes things as they come and does the best he can with them."

Do everything in your power to obtain a constructive outcome in a problem, then be confident that whatever happens is for the best. In most cases it will be just that. This philosophy has helped many people out of failure and misfortune.

Methodists Greet New Pastor in NLB

North Long Beach Methodist Church will celebrate the appointment of its new minister, Rev. Charles L. Boss, at an installation service Sunday, 3 p.m. A reception will follow.

Rev. Irwin Trotter, superintendent of the Long Beach District, will officiate. Dr. Oscar M. Adam, associate minister of the church, will preside.

Rev. Boss succeeds Rev. Bill J. Usher, who has been appointed to an administrative position in the Pacific Homes Corporation at Chula Vista.

For the past 6½ years Rev. Boss has been pastor of Hollypark Methodist Church in Gardena. He is a native of Chattanooga, Tenn., received the A.B. degree from Asbury College, and the B.D. degree from Asbury Theological Seminary. He has pastored churches in Tennessee, New York, Arizona and California. After a year at Hartford Seminary in the Kennedy School of Missions he was assigned to West Pakistan as a missionary from 1951 to 1954.

He is married to Kathryn Adam, herself daughter of a missionary.

FROM THE PULPIT
Many of life's decisions are based on expediency. Your doing what is advantageous rather than what is just and right is usually guided by self-interest. The right choice will often entail self-sacrifice.

The most important decisions you will ever make concern your spiritual welfare. However, because of expediency, many reject Christ as Saviour, many attend churches that teach error, and many take no spiritual interest at all. The right decision might involve the sacrifice of personal interest and perhaps the leaving of a neighborhood church. The easy way may seem acceptable now, but time and eternity will prove differently.

You can't afford to make the wrong decision concerning your spiritual life. Expediency is not the answer. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Contributions by members of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. reached an all-time high in 1967 and exceeded the denomination's budget for the second straight year, officials said. The Living God
Anyone whose life has been touched by the healing power of divine Love, anyone whose prayers have brought a glimpse of what it means to be spiritually alive, knows from his own experience about "the living God" spoken of in the Bible. Awareness of His presence comes in different ways to each individual, but it grows only with deep prayer and study. Christian Science Reading Rooms and church services are there to help. You are always welcome.

Grace Methodist OKs Program for Improving Race Relations

The Official Board of Grace Methodist Church, responding to a proposal from the Christian Education Commission, has unanimously endorsed several actions designed to explore possibilities of improving race relations in the community.

Members and friends of the church, located at 2325 E. Third St., are urged to invite friends and acquaintances of other races to worship with them at Grace on Feb. 11. The governing body also resolved to accept responsibility for furthering racial understanding, noting that members of various ethnic groups live in the vicinity of the church.

A letter signed by Raymond K. Jansen, chairman of the Christian Education Commission, has been sent to 25 area religious bodies, Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish, explaining Grace's action and suggesting fenses leading to extensive social isolation, a special possible collaboration. Pointing to "social isolation (which has) almost completely removed the opportunities for natural communication and association between individual persons," the letter said that through a demonstration of determination by religious groups "to unite in worship, study, fellowship and service, a new conversion in the very character of our city could occur."

Text of the resolution passed by the Official Board:

BECAUSE, communication and association between people is necessary for feelings of animosity to be resolved rationally,

BECAUSE, it is the responsibility of every white Christian to repent for injuries done to others in the name of his race,

BECAUSE, due to the long history of these of-responsibility to restore true feelings of brotherhood resides with those congregations which hold worship services in the vicinity where members of minority groups live,

THEREFORE: we of the Official Board of Grace Methodist Church resolve to do the following:

1. Commend our denominational leadership for their pronouncements and resolve to demonstrate the love for all men which we claim.

2. Invite and urge all our members and friends to recognize the many contracts they have with individuals of other races by sharing this witness with them and inviting them to worship with us on February 11, 1968.

3. Build the Christian attribute of brotherly love for all men into the fabric of our daily living in order that every day may create better understanding among the races.

4. Invite those congregations for whom this resolution is most pertinent to join Grace Methodist Church in this act of Christian witness, and,

5. Communicate this action to our District and Conference leaders, and to the Council of Churches of the Long Beach area.

'ENCOUNTER'

Dr. Ramsey Pollard, former president of the Southern Baptist Convention, now pastor of the large Bellevue Baptist Church of Memphis, is one of the prominent speakers at a two-day Long Beach-Harbor evangelism conference in preparation for the big state "Encounter" crusade in 1968. Meetings will be Monday, 7:30 p.m. and Tuesday, 9 a.m. and 7 p.m., for 27 Baptist churches in First Southern Baptist, 5640 Orange Ave. This is one of 36 similar meetings being held throughout the state.

Buddhist Sect Claims Growth

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nichiren Shoshu, a Buddhist sect, says its ranks are growing faster than any religion in the United States. Two years ago it claimed 25,000 active adherents in the United States. Now it claims between 40,000 and 50,000.

"This is not like Zen which appealed to beatniks," says Masayasu Sadanaga, chief of the joint headquarters of Nichiren Shoshu of America in Los Angeles. "These are good, common sense people."

Sadanaga says his sect has an advantage over other religions. It promises believers both material and spiritual happiness in this life. People are told to pray for whatever they want to make them happy.

"And it gets results," says Sadanaga, "because people naturally work hard for the things they want that will give them security and material gains."

Adventist Total

Western officials of the Seventh-day Adventist Church announced that a total of $1,005,471 has been contributed in five western states for the church's 60th annual World Service Appeal public fund campaign.

Witnesses Persecuted, 4th Career, Free Bibles

Harsh persecution of Jehovah's Witnesses reported from the little African nation of Malawi, formerly known as Nyasaland, is protested in a letter to the president of that land by a Long Beach man, C. H. Lyon, 7021 Myrtle Ave.

The letter, plus an article containing documentation of persecutions from respected European newspapers and wire services, was sent to Dr. H. Kamuzu Banda, president of Malawi. Copies were sent to the religion editors of this paper and the Los Angeles Times. Says Lyon in his letter to Dr. Banda: "I will be happy to send them (the two papers) a copy of any reply you may care to make."

His letter respectfully pointed out that Dr. Banda "is not unacquainted with democratic principles being practiced in the United States and England," since he was put through high school here with the aid of Christians, attended college here, and practiced medicine in London before assuming the leadership of his country.

Malawi Witnesses have reportedly been beaten, raped and slain, with many fleeing for safety to neighboring Mozambique. In accordance with their beliefs, they refuse to buy membership cards in Malawi's ruling Congress Party, or to wear badges with the picture of the president. Basis for this neutrality regarding national politics is the Witnesses' literal interpretation of the Bible, in being "no part of the world."

A SPRIGHTLY place mat, headlined "Thanks for Giving" and showing through graphic drawings how Goodwill Industries works, is available in quantity to any church or organization which would like them, says Thoburn Spelcher, community relations man for the non-profit organization, whose motto is: "Not Charity, But a Chance."

THINK YOU'RE getting a little too old to consider doing something new? Maybe so, but William J. Fordung, 74, who has been a lawyer, physician and college professor, embarks on a fourth career Sunday. Father Fordung will celebrate his first public Mass as a Roman Catholic priest in New York.

A widower and father of four adopted children, he is a 1911 Fordham graduate, and later won degrees in bacteriology at Columbia and law at Fordham. Before he was ordained as a priest four months ago in Formosa, he carried on his law and medical practices and taught at Fordham and Hunter College.

Q. AND A. on the religious affiliations for the foremost contenders for the presidency: President Johnson is a member of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) as is Gov. Reagan. George Romney, first announced candidate, is a Mormon. Richard Nixon is a Quaker. Nelson Rockefeller an American Baptist, Charles Percy a Christian Scientist. Among the dark horses, New York Mayor John Lindsay is an Episcopalian, and Eugene McCarthy a Roman Catholic (as is Robert Kennedy.) There has yet to be either a Mormon or Christian Scientist as President.

EACH VISITOR to the Sunday School at First Baptist of Norwalk, 11908 E. Orange Ave., will receive a gift of Today's English Version of the New Testament, called the most readable and easily understood translation of modern times. Sunday School starts at 9:30 a.m. Over eight million copies of the highly praised version by the American Bible Society have been distributed in 15 months. . . . L.R.

FAA Increasing Candidates Air Controllers, Other Personnel for Filing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Administration has ordered a 1,739-man increase in its air traffic personnel to meet growing airway congestion and bring traffic control centers, airport towers and flight service stations to full authorized strength.

The funds for the added manpower were authorized in the 1966 fiscal budget, but another increase in the number of new budget request to Congress.

The increase will add 1,449 air traffic controllers to the FAA roster, bringing the total to more than 15,000.

Candidates for elective office were notified Friday by Orange County Clerk William E. St. John they must file declarations of intentions to be candidates from Feb. 13 through 21.

Each candidate for office of State Senate, State Assembly, Superior Court or Municipal Court must file. Failure to do so will disqualify from the ballot, St. John said.

Nomination papers are to be available Feb. 28. They must be returned to St. John for filing by 5 p.m. March 22 to be eligible for the June 4 primary election.

SC Council Praises Gains

CLAREMONT (AP) — The Southern California Council of Churches, praising the drive toward ecumenism, said this week still more unity is needed among churches of the world.

"We rejoice in the evolution of more cordial relations between us and the Roman Catholics," the council said in a statement.

Douglas Chambers, a United Church of Christ layman from Newport Beach, was elected president of the council. He succeeds Dr. Carroll L. Schuster, Presbyterian executive.

The annual meeting drew about 350 churchmen, along with four Roman Catholic observers from Los Angeles and San Diego.

TELE-VUES

Squeals of Joy I Ain't Emitting

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

Over a period of years, television has promoted, if not instigated, girle shows of various kinds in which the Miss This or That is chosen.

Most of the time nobody knew or cared much who these girls were or how they were chosen. There were, of course, some legitimate contests, but I guess there was, and is, a lurking suspicion in the minds of many people that in too many cases the candidates may have had something going for them beside the surface attributes.

These contests are pretty popular fare on TV. They get high ratings and for those who like to see girls there's really nothing wrong with it.

THERE'S ANOTHER one of these things on TV tonight — "Stars of Tomorrow." According to Vernon Scott, UPI Hollywood correspondent, some "editors and columnists are somewhat slow on the uptake" because this show will be the "first legitimate such program."

It is not surprising that editors and columnists have "been slow on the uptake" — having been a bit suspicious of these events in the past.

As Scott puts it, they have been all too aware that "most frequently the Dolly Dimwit in the contest or pageant would have a bit part in a film which would be prominently mentioned as she promenaded around in an outfit designed to display her charms to best advantage. Thereafter no one ever heard of her again, unless of course, she was the studio chief's current girl friend. In that case she'd land a couple of air roles and then disappear in favor of another kitten."

IT IS TRUE, as Vernon points out, TV editors and columnists were sent questionnaires and had a chance to note their choices, and I'm glad to have an experienced Hollywood columnist's observation that this show is on the up and up, but frankly, I don't know that it makes a heck of a lot of difference whether it is or not. It's promotion, and while I'm not particularly against that, I think that's more the job of press agents than editors and columnists. (Although editors and columnists get sucked in on it too — as witness this column).

"Every producer and director in town will be watching this show," Vernon quotes Gene Kelly, the MC, as saying. "It amounts to a mass interview or screen test for dozens of kids."

Aw, come off it, fellas. LEONARD BERNSTEIN will have another of his concerts on Ch. 2 at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. These are called "Young People's Concerts," but I suggest they're too good for young people who don't watch them. Us older guys watch them.

His subject Sunday will be Beethoven, who according to Bernstein, was a "little provincial chap with bad skin and a comedy accent

Leave It To Larry

By LARRY MEDER
HARBOR CHEVROLET

A very wealthy timber tycoon had accumulated a huge fortune without benefit of ethics—yet ironically, his dishonest traits were responsible for saving his wretched life.

Having bought a huge and luxurious yacht with his ill-gotten gains, the vessel struck a reef on the first voyage, tearing a huge gash below the water line and sank in 30 feet of the briny deep.

The collision jammed the owner's cabin door shut and he helplessly gazed longingly at the porthole which wasn't large enough to offer him an avenue of escape.

When the water in the cabin rose to where it covered his mouth and nose, his past life began unfolding in the confines of his memory and when all his misdeeds, lying and treachery in his dealings which caused a great deal of human suffering appeared, he felt so small that he swam through that porthole with the ease of an eel!

Folks, we're dealing now at Harbor Chevrolet, 3770 Cherry, GA 6-3341. Please ask for Larry Meder.

Millikan Penetrates Downey 'Freeze,' Remains Undefeated

By DAVE MILLER &amp; JOHN PAYNE

Downey High played as cold as the weather outside, hitting a meager 19 per cent from the floor, and handed Millikan its third Moore League victory in as many starts Friday night in the Viking gym, 62-38.

Downey kept pace with the Rams in the first period, trailing 14-11, but then missed all 10 field goal attempts in the second quarter. Wayne Burt's two free throws earned Downey its only points of the period. For the night, Downey hit only 11 of 57 from the field compared with Millikan's 21 of 49 for 40 per cent.

McCullough's Streak at Five

OAKLAND (AP) — Earl McCullough, who shares two world outdoor hurdle records, flashed to a near indoor record 6.9 in the 60-yard high hurdles in the Athens Invitational track and field meet Friday night.

His time was within one-tenth second of Hayes Jones' 6.8 indoor mark set in 1964.

Billy Gaines, 18-year-old San Jose high school sensation, defeated Charlie Greene, self-acclaimed world's fastest human, by inches in the 60-yard dash final. The time was six seconds flat.

Greene was second, a hair-line over John Carlos, unattached. Greene also lost a close 60 to Gaines in the January All-America meet at San Francisco.

McCullough's victory was his fifth straight hurdles triumph since he starred in Southern California's New Year's Day football victory over Indiana in the Rose Bowl. He will seek his sixth in the Albuquerque Invitational tonight.

McCullough was two-tenths of a second faster than in his initial 1968 victory in the All-America meet at San Francisco only four days after the Rose Bowl.

McCullough said he "felt good, but tipped the next to last hurdle and almost fell near the finish."

Tommy White of the Southern California Striders was second in 7.2 and Larry Livers of the sponsoring Athens AC third in 7.3. Ralph Boston, veteran Olympic long jumper, was sixth and last in a blanket finish for third as four runners tied at 7.3.

Bob Beamon of University of Texas-El Paso won the long jump at 26-10 but was "depressed because I didn't hit 27 feet." He leaped 27-1 in the Millrose Games in New York Thursday. Veteran Boston was second at 26-2½.

Larry Heng of the University of California won the 500-yard dash in a meet record-tying 57.5.

COUSY HAS SIMPLE PLAN: 'IGNORE LEW'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Boston College Coach Bob Cousy has a simple formula for dealing with Lew Alcindor when his team faces UCLA tonight:

"I plan to simply ignore him."

Cousy has never seen Alcindor in action, except on television, but he knows the former New York prep star well. "Defending Alcindor is out of the realm of coaching," said Cousy, who tried hard to recruit the 7-footer for Boston College.

Trotters Go Tonight in L.B. Arena

The incomparable clown prince of basketball, Meadowlark Lemon, will bow into the Long Beach Arena with his Harlem Globetrotter teammates for a one-night stand tonight at 8.

Meadowlark (he insists that's his given name) is a rare combination of basketball talent and superb comedian.

Asked if he would consider playing competitive basketball in one of the pro leagues, Lemon's quick reply is, "Definitely not." Meadowlark was an outstanding all-around athlete as a youth in Wilmington, N.C.

"A few years ago I wondered how I'd go in the pro ranks. I felt I could make it, but traveling with the Globetrotters and entertaining folks everywhere has been just too wonderful," Lemon says. "I feel even stronger about it as time passes."

Initially, it was a combination of great natural ability and just plain good luck that brought Lemon to fame.

He joined the club after the departure of Goose Tatum and at a time when clowns Sam Wheeler and Showboat Hall were out with injuries. Meadowlark was immediately pressed into service in the top comedy-drama and the rest is history.

Racing Held to Nation's Sun Country

Associated Press

Narragansett Park in Rhode Island hopes to resume racing today after three days of snow cancellations, but most of the action in the horse racing world will be in the sun country.

Florida's big race is the $20,000-added Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah where 11 are scheduled to go 11/16 miles on the turf. He's a Smoothie with 123 pounds is the likely favorite.

Flirtation, fittingly named, is a hunch and possible chalk choice in the $25,000 Flirtation Stakes at Pimlico, a six-furlong dash for 3-year-olds which has attracted a field of nine.

The Louisiana Handicap, a $15,000-added event, will be the feature at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

IT WAS BOX CAR double at Hialeah Race Track Friday — $10,000 for a 3-year-old who paired $100,000 in the first race with World GI Trotter (12:20) in the second. One handicapper better purchased five of the six $10 tickets which were sold on the winning 1-11 combination. He took down $25,000 for his $50 investment.
